Automatic presser foot lift and cut functions

The Auto Presser Foot Lift automatically lifts the presser foot after a thread cut, when you've pressed the thread cut button, or after a programmed thread cut at the end of a row of decorative stitches. You keep your hands on your project for optimum control.

AcuFeed™ Flex layered fabric feeding system

The AcuFeed Flex feeding system lets you stitch through multiple, thick layers with perfect precision. You can easily detach it when not in use.

Stitch Composer stitch creation program

Design original decorative stitches from scratch, using the Standard Stitch Composer software. It's easier than ever, and you can use your new creation just like a built-in-stitch, altering length and width and adding it to combinations.
